ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

The second anniversary service of the Edmonton Methodist church, was held on Tuesday evening last. An excellent tea was served from 6:30 to 8 o'clock, in the building recently used as a Salvation army barracks, which was the first Methodist church in Edmonton. The entertainment was given in the church, commencing at 8 o'clock. Rev. G. W. Dean, pastor of the church, opened the proceedings with a short address explaining the purpose of the entertainment and the financial position of the church. As long as body and soul remained together, so long matters temporal must be considered in connection with matters spiritual. The cost of the church was about $4,500 and of the parsonage about $2,500. The running expenses of the church were about $1,500 a year. The contributions of the congregation were about $18 per sabbath, while about $25 per sabbath was needed, to meet this deficit the ladies' aid stepped in with this and like entertainments. The speaker wondered where this and other churches would be financially without the ladies' aid. The following programme was rendered: Anthem "Song of the Soldier." Choir, Instrumental quartette, Miss Phillips, organ, Messrs Purches and May, violins and Mr. Boyle, Violoncello. Song, "The Lost Chord," A. G. Randall, with cornet obligato by O. May. Address by Rev. THE BRIDGE.
The bridge question is being gradually cleared of the mystery that has thus far surrounded it; although not by any apparent progress being made towards the commencement of work. It is pleasing to know that the plans are being prepared and that the preparation is being proceeded with notwithstanding the alleged conflict amongst the townspeople as to site. It is also satisfactory to know from the letter of the deputy minister of public works that that department has no knowledge of any dispute as to site amongst our townspeople, and that if there is any difference of opinion on that subject it is between the townspeople and the government engineers. It is also satisfactory to know that there is only a possibility—not a certainty—of this alleged difference causing delay; and further that the department of public works clearly understands the position taken by the town in the matter. It seems only fair that if the town is to pay a part of the cost of a public bridge it should have something to say as to its location. Of course if there are adequate engineering reasons why the site preferred by the town should not be adopted it will be the duty of the government to build the bridge elsewhere, but in that case the town can scarcely be expected to contribute towards the cost. In order to settle the matter the department would do well to inform the town just what are the engineering reasons why the site preferred by it cannot be chosen. That site was examined carefully by Mr. Gouin who was sent here to make the survey and he verbally informed the members of the then town council that it was quite as good as the other one; the only objection being that it did not make connection with the streets in town and the surveyed trails. Mr. Gouin was assured at the time that access to the bridge would be secured if it were placed at the desired point, without expense to the Dominion. If this is the only objection to the lower site, and if the other objections are not important, on the principle of the greatest good to the greatest number that site should be chosen, especially when the people interested are prepared to pay for their choice. A great deal is being made of a difference of opinion. We have already found on pushing the inquiry that one difference said to exist did not exist, and now we want to know—and are entitled to know—what the other alleged difference of opinion is.

But if there is no difference of opinion amongst our townspeople—or amongst the country people—there is a substantial difference of opinion between the people of Edmonton and the South Edmonton News. The News wants the bridge at the upper site, because 1. That site was recommended by Thos. Anderson in 1889. 2. Because Mr. Balfour, engineer of bridges on the C. P. R. and Mr. McLeod, engineer for the Calgary & Edmonton railway "admitted" that it was "the best selection that could be made and complimented Mr. Anderson on his good judgment as to the site." 3. Because St. Albert, Morinville, Riviere Qui Barre, Stony Plain and the great northern traffic carried by the Hudson's Bay company all favor the "site selected by Mr. Anderson." 4. Because "We on the south side sanction this site, it being one mile nearer the railway station, which is the most important point than by the site recently selected by the Edmonton town council, and it would be considerably more than a mile for the settlers north and west of Edmonton." It is quite possible that Mr. Anderson may have shown excellent judgment in selecting the bridge site in 1889, but it will strike almost any one that the subsequent advent of the railway might—and as a matter of fact did—so change the course of travel that what would have answered the purpose as things were then would be altogether out of the way now, which is the plain fact. Messrs Balfour and McLeod may have "admitted" in the course of argument that that site was the best. There are cases when in the course of argument a man will "admit" almost anything, and this may have been one of those cases. It may be mentioned however that when Mr. McLeod was running his trial line to the river for a railway crossing he did not run to the site which he "admitted" was so good, but ran his lines on both sides of the river to make the crossing at or about the site desired by the town. This fact alone should be sufficient to prove that the grades to the river by way of this site are not only preferable to those by way of the upper site but are the best to be had, while the site itself on the same evidence cannot have been altogether objectionable. Regarding the alleged preference by the people of St. Albert and Stony Plain for the upper site it is not made clear whether it exists because the site was selected by Mr. Anderson or because it was "admitted" to be the best by Messrs Balfour and McLeod, or because the people of those settlements prefer to haul their loads up steep in preference to easy grades. It may be that the News intends to convey the idea that this preference is because of the upper site giving the people of those settlements a road to the station from a mile to a mile and a half shorter than by way of the lower site. If this were the fact it could only lengthen the road proportionately to the people living north and east, in which direction it may be remarked the great northern traffic of the Hudson's Bay company goes. But it is not the fact. Both proposed sites are situated within the limits of the town and on the north side start from the same flat in the same bend of the river, so that access to both on the north side is practically the same. The upper site lies just about twenty chains further west than the railway station and the lower site about fifteen chains further east than it, so that there is really less detour by way of the lower than by the upper site. The question of access on the north side or the question of distance does not amount to anything in this connection. The question is, which will give the easiest road to and from the station to people on both sides of the river. To this there can be only one answer—by way of the lower site.

your obedient servant,
H. H. SCHAEFER.

MacLeod Gazette, Nov. 30: A settler, with two 4-horse teams, on his way from Washington state to Wetsaskiwin, passed through town on Saturday. He said that he wished he was there, and we're quite sure he meant it.

MacLeod Gazette: Peter McCarthy, Q. C., of Calgary, has been suspended and disqualified by Judge McGuire, owing to a charge of professional misconduct, in connection with the estate of the late J. B. Barter, of the Quorn Ranch Co., preferred against him by Judge Travis. An application will now be made that McCarthy be stripped of his gown and his name struck from the roll.

Lethbridge News: Great interest has for some time been manifested in a charge of professional misconduct preferred by Judge Travis against Peter McCarthy, Q. C. of Calgary, and which resulted in McCarthy being suspended and disqualified. The facts of the case are: When the late Mr. J. J. Barter died, the Quorn Ranch company, of which he had been manager, owed him $20,000. For some time the company paid Mrs. Barter, his widow, interest on the above amount, but owing to disputes among the members of the company, nothing had been paid Mrs. Barter for the past two years. It thus became necessary for Mrs. Barter to take action against the company. To do this she executed a power of attorney in favor of Mr. Chas. W. Martin, who retained Mr. McCarthy, Q. C., to take action. He did so, obtained judgment against the Quorn Ranch company, and its property was duly sold by the sheriff and purchased in the name of Mrs. J. J. Barter, subject to a chattel mortgage in favor of one Swann. It is here the trouble began. McCarthy and his firm appeared to be acting at the same time for all the parties interested at the expense of Mrs. Barter, who was kept in ignorance of what was going on. To use Judge McGuire's words: "It was a fight between the Martins and Swann as to the division of the spoil, and that Mrs. Barter and her claim were merely playing the jack-all's part." Instead of clearing off Swann's chattel mortgage, which stood in the way of Mrs. Barter having a clear title to the ranch, McCarthy encouraged litigation as much as he could, for he was receiving fees at the rate of $4,000 a year. Judge McGuire, who was brought into the case, rendered judgment disqualifying McCarthy. This is as far as he could go, and will report to a full court, which will deal with the case. Judge Travis will then move, pursuant to his application to Judge McGuire, that McCarthy, Q. C., be stripped of his gown and his name struck from the roll.

CONSTITUTION. — ARTICLE I. — NAME.
This federation shall be called the Local Council of Edmonton in affiliation with the National Council of Women of Canada.

ARTICLE II. — POLICY.
The aim of a Local Council is to bring the various associations of women in Edmonton into closer relations through an organized union; but no society entering a local council shall thereby lose its independence in aim or method, or be committed to any principle or method of any other society in the council, the object of which is to serve as a medium of communication and a means of prosecuting any work of common interest.

ARTICLE III. — MEMBERS.
Sec. 1. Any society of women, the nature of whose work is satisfactory to the executive committee of a local council, may become members of said local council by its own vote.

Sec. 2. The women of any organization composed of both men and women may associate themselves by their own vote and join said local councils.

ARTICLE IV. — OFFICERS.
The officers of a local council shall consist of a president, vice-presidents at large, ex-officio vice-presidents (presidents of all societies federating in a local council), a corresponding secretary, a recording secretary and a treasurer.

These officers shall comprise the executive committee, whose business it shall be to control and provide for the general interests of the council. Five members shall constitute a quorum of this committee.

ARTICLE V. — MEETINGS.
Sec. 1. A local council shall hold annual meetings for the election of officers and other business.

Sec. 2. The committee of arrangements shall consist of the executive committee, together with one delegate from each society belonging to the council.

Sec. 3. At the annual meeting, each society belonging to the council shall have three votes (exclusive of that cast by the president).

Sec. 4. All other members of any society belonging to the council may have the privilege of participating in all discussions that may arise at the annual meeting, but may not vote.

Sec. 5. Other meetings of a local council may be held from time to time as may best promote the interests of said council.

Sec. 6. All new business to be brought before the annual meeting of a local council must first be submitted to the executive committee as notice of motion.

ARTICLE VI. — FEES.
Each society federating in a local council shall pay an annual fee of $2.00 towards the expense of the said council.

ARTICLE VII. — PATRONS.
Sec. 1. Any person whose name is acceptable to the executive committee may become a patron of a local council upon the payment of $5.00 annually, or $50.00 at one time.

Sec. 2. The names of patrons shall be placed after those of the executive committee on all printed documents.

Sec. 3. Any person whose name is acceptable to the executive committee, and who is not connected with any affiliated society, may become a member of the local council on payment of $1 annually, and may take part in the proceedings and discussion of the public meetings of the council, but is not entitled to vote. Such members shall receive free literature published by the council.

ARTICLE VIII. — AMENDMENTS.
This constitution may be altered at any annual meeting, provided that such alteration be in harmony with the constitution of the national council, notice of the proposed change having been sent to the executive of the National Council two months, and to each society belonging to the council at least one month, prior to such meeting.

If Japan now accepts the proposals of peace made by China she will come out of the war with flying colors. Her losses in men have not been heavy and the soldiers and marines have shown themselves brave and clever. Japan, apparently, has been anxious to show that the garb of European civilization fits her people, the opportunity has occurred and the demonstration made has been satisfactory.

SOUTH EDMONTON PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The tea and entertainment given at South Edmonton on Monday evening, by the ladies of the Presbyterian congregation in aid of their new church, was a social and financial success. The spread was laid in Ferguson & Ross's new hall on Main street, and a merry party of whom were many from Edmonton, enjoyed the feast. Lunch over, an adjournment was made to the new church, where an interesting programme was rendered.

Mr. J. McLean presided as chairman, and introduced the Rev. Mr. Goodwin as the first speaker. The Rev. gentleman talked interestingly of the district, laying particular stress upon the many advantages of the village within the precincts of his parish, even going so far as to comment harshly upon the commercial candor of Edmonton.

Rev. Mr. McQueen, of the Edmonton Presbyterian church, followed and took exception to the sentiments expressed by his brother clergyman in relation to the value of silver dollars in Edmonton. A vocal solo by Miss Robinson and another by Mrs. Mackenzie followed.

Mr. Bissett was then called upon to read a report of the financial condition of the church. In substance it was as follows: Entire cost of church, $1,250; subscriptions collected, $750.00; collections from opening services, $26.40; results of the social $75.00. The report was heard with much interest, and the congregation are to be congratulated upon their splendid success.

Following the reading of the report, there was music by the full choir, and Mrs. Meredith sang a solo.

The Rev. Mr. Macdonald of Edmonton, was the next speaker. In his interesting remarks he referred to the good feeling between Edmonton and her sister village, pointing to the fact that at the present entertainment both towns were well represented. The Rev. gentleman could not see where rivalry existed.

The next on the programme, was a song, "I gathered them in," by Mr. J. Jackson, which was loudly encored.

The Rev. Mr. Herdman, of Calgary, was next called upon and talked in happy mood, congratulating the promoters of the entertainment upon the success achieved. Drawing a comparison between the Calgary and Edmonton districts, he spoke in glowing terms of the latter.

The Rev. Mr. Dean followed with an interesting address, delivered in humorous vein.

During the intervals Mrs. Bennett, Miss Ward, Mrs. Hockley, and others, assisted by rendering instrumental and vocal music, which was highly appreciated.

STEELE.—At Beaver Lake, Alta., on Tuesday, Nov. 27th, Edith Ina, beloved daughter of James and Ina Steele, aged seven months and twenty days.

Regina Standard: It is understood that Messrs C. A. Magrath and J. J. Young have formed an alliance and purchased the plant of the defunct Calgary Herald, just as Mr. J. A. Reid had issued a prospectus and taken other steps for its resuscitation. Mr. Reid, in order to keep even stepped across the street and purchased the Tribune from one or two persons who had financial control of it. The Magrath-Young party, in order to go it one better, then secured the services of Mr. Braden, the founder and late proprietor of the aforesaid Tribune; all of which passages a revival in the newspaper circles of the Albertan metropolis.

In 1800 the grand father of the present Rothschilds did not own a penny. At present the family owns 10,000,000,000 francs. A tenth part of this immense wealth is in possession of the French branch of the family. In 1875 the Rothschilds owned less than one thousand million of francs and it is calculated that in 1965 this already enormously rich family will be worth $12,000,000,000, the interest on which would be sufficient to support the entire French nation of 37,000,000 human beings.
